

2. Hate Speech: You agree not to engage in hate speech on any SCNA controlled social media page. You agree not to allege that groups or individuals deserve violence, or attempt to dehumanize or degrade them on the basis of age, disability, gender, ethnicity, race, nationality, religion, or sexual orientation

19. Complaints: If there are problems on SCNA social media pages, we want to know about them so that we can attempt to fix them. You agree to report community-related complaints and problems appropriately: to report a violation of these Rules of Conduct, or to complain about another member or the actions of a moderator, e-mail your complaint to the SCNA Clerk, who will review your complaint and forward to the governing council. You agree not to post problem reports and complaints publicly on any SCNA controlled site, or to comment publicly on host or staff actions. You agree you will not harass volunteer Community Hosts and SCNA staff. You will not engage in behavior that requires SCNA staff and/or volunteer Moderators to expend excessive time and/or resources.

In addition:

The Governing Council of the Serama Council of North America adopted a motion that any member of the Governing Council who posts personal jabs, innuendos, or any comment that can be construed as a personal attack, shall lose his or her access to the BOD/GC forum (on the SCNAonline.org website) for the period of 30 calendar days.

These Rules of Conduct apply to anything you upload to or create on SCNA, including posts, screen names, member profiles, discussion titles, or any other text or images.

SCNA has the right to suspend or terminate your membership for violation of the above rules.

SCNA has the right to reprint from SCNA discussions any post or portion of a post (along with the username of the SCNA member who posted it) somewhere else on the site or in any other medium (such as in a SCNA book, in a SCNA television commercial, etc.)

SCNA neither endorses nor is responsible for any opinion, advice, information or statement made or displayed in these forums and groups by third parties, nor are we responsible for any errors or omissions in such postings, or for hyperlinks embedded in messages. Under no circumstances will SCNA be liable for any loss or damage caused by your reliance on information obtained in these forums. The opinions expressed in these forums are solely the opinions of the participants, and do not necessarily reflect the opinions of SCNA.

Please check these guidelines periodically as they may be revised for the protection of our valued members.

By using this message board and our affiliated social media groups you agree that you have read, fully understand and agree to adhere to this TOS.

The SCNA reserves the right to pursue prosecution of violations of the TOS from both within its membership and outside, third parties who copy, email, or cross post any part or portion of the contents of this site and/or message board without first obtaining express written permission to do so.

Anyone who has posted copies or otherwise duplicated any portion of the website/message board or closed social media groups must show written proof from the SCNA verifying permission to do so. Discussions within all areas of the SCNA message board, both public and private, are to remain within the message board and should not be duplicated in any way, shape, or form. Anyone found to be in violation of this can be prosecuted under intellectual property and copyright laws should the SCNA see fit.
